Wrap It Up, September 2006* Fashion Roundup!- Indie Designer Fashion Market*

published: Sat, 2006-09-02 13:49

By faith bowman

On July 29th I paid a visit to the Indie Designers Market, nestled inside of the larger Chicago Antique Market. The market is located at on the 1300 block of Randolph, and happens on the last Sunday of each month from May to October. I grabbed a model and headed over the last Sunday in July, and here's the result...

Hot 'clothing rescuer' Dolan Geiman was in residence and Lindsay found it hard to choose her favorite piece! Dolan's simple clothing boasts silkscreened details and patches dreamed up by the artist himself. Find out more at www.dolangeiman.com

Summer dressing was made simple by a collection of unique designers and can still work under a jacket with cute tights and boots for fall...designer info: www.p3clothing.net, www.dolangeiman.com www.dolan-geiman.com

Go back to the office wearing an outfit that will knock their eyes out with intricate crocheted ruffles, and a smart pencil skirt with pockets...take note of the hobo bag- it will work with anything! designer info:

Indie Market designer's take you from day to night wit Lara Millers sassy classy wrap style goddess dress. It makes a cute day look when worn with Eva May's sweet hat and bag. Nighttime howlers can crawl into Cyndi Chan's black ensemble to hit the clubs... designer info: www.laramiller.com, www.casadesoul.com
